Franz called the meeting to order at 1:30 p.m. on Friday, October 21, 2016 in room 324 of the Student Union. Dr. Peter Ryan, Associate Provost, spoke to the committee and explained that Dr. Judy Bonner, Provost, is very appreciative of the work of the UCCC and wants to lighten the load of the committee if possible. Dr. Bonner asked Dr. Ryan to form a committee to review the processes of the UCCC and make recommendations for improvements. The committee will consist of one dean, two associate deans, two UCCC members, two college curriculum chairs, UCCC Chair, UCCC staff member, Registrar's Office staff member, the director of the Distance Learning Center, and Dr. Ryan.

Franz announced that Skip Jack resigned as a member of the UCCC due to his class schedule conflicting with UCCC meetings. The College of Veterinary Medicine will elect a replacement. Hunt moved to approve the September 9, 2016 minutes. Rigsby seconded the motion. The September 9, 2016 minutes were approved unanimously.

Hunt moved to approve the deletion of WFA 4333/6333 Fish and Shellfish Nutrition and the addition of WFA 8433 Natural Resource and Conservation Decision Making. Rigsby seconded the motion. The motion to approve the deletion of WFA 4333/6333 and the addition of WFA 8433 was approved unanimously.

Kirkland moved to approve the addition and distance offering of HI 3333 Mississippi History. Niemann seconded the motion. Committee members were concerned the attendance policy was not clear and might not be in compliance with AOP 12.09. Rigsby moved to pass HI 3333 contingent upon the above concerns being addressed. Olsen seconded the motion. The motion to pass the addition and distance offering of HI 3333 contingent was approved unanimously.

Kirkland moved to approve the modification of SO 4403/6403 Sociology of Gender and Sexuality. Olsen seconded the motion. Committee members observed the equivalency table needs to reflect how the online course will be different from the face to face course. Stewart moved to pass SO 4403/6403 contingent upon the above concern being addressed. Rigsby seconded the motion. The motion to pass the modification of SO 4403/6403 contingent was approved unanimously.

Kirkland moved to approve the addition of SW 3043 Military Social Work. Rigsby seconded the motion. The motion to approve the addition of SW 3043 passed unanimously.

Olsen moved to approve the additions of CSE 8713 Advanced Cyber Operations, CSE 8723 Cyber Law and Policy, CSE 8743 Advanced Network Security, and MS in Cyber Security and Operations. Rigsby seconded the motion. Dr. Dave Dampier appeared in support of the proposals. Committee members were concerned that while CSE 8713, CSE 8723 and CSE 8743 have grading scales, the proposals do not indicate what letter grade is assigned to each range. Hunt moved to pass CSE 8713, CSE 8723, CSE 8743, and the MS in Cyber Security and Operations contingent upon the above concern being addressed. Carr seconded the motion. The motion to pass contingent was approved unanimously.

Niemann moved to approve the addition of a Bachelor of Science in Biomedical Engineering. Olsen seconded the motion. Dr. Steve Elder appeared in support of the proposals. Dr. Elder stated that students who are in the current concentration will be given the option to move over to the new major. Dr. Elder also stated that 128 credits hours are required for the program because of accreditation standards and will fall under the engineering blanket exception of allowing more than 124 credit hours. The motion to approve the addition of a BS in Biomedical Engineering was approved unanimously.

Rigsby moved to approve modification of the Masters of Engineering (Distance). Olsen seconded the motion. The motion to approve the modification of the MS of Engineering (Distance) was approved unanimously.

Olsen moved to approve the addition and distance offering of ECE 8633 Control of Distributed and Renewable Energy Systems. Stewart seconded the motion. Committee members discussed that this course is on a 15 point grading scale, and a grading scale of that nature is unusual. Franz announced she would review the grade scale with Dr. Ryan to determine if the university has a position on similar grading scales. Rigsby moved to pass ECE 8633 contingent upon the above concern being addressed. Niemann seconded the motion. The motion to pass ECE 8633 contingent was approved unanimously.

Carr moved to approve the modification of EG 1143 Graphic Communication. Niemann seconded the motion. Committee members were concerned the course outline does not have enough detail about what is being taught, and the contact hours need to be broken down in smaller increments. Committee members were also concerned the attendance policy is not in compliance with AOP 12.09. Olsen moved to pass EG 1143 contingent upon the above concerns being addressed. Stewart seconded the motion. The motion to pass EG 1143 contingent was approved unanimously.

Carr moved to approve the addition of ME 4393/6393 and the addition of distance and gulf coast offerings. Freeman seconded the motion. Committee members were concerned that an attendance policy was not included in the syllabus. Rigsby moved to pass ME 4393/6393 contingent upon the above concern being addressed. Niemann seconded the motion. The motion to pass ME 4393/6393 contingent was approved unanimously.

Rigsby moved to approve the modification of the Ph.D. in Animal and Dairy Science. Niemann seconded the motion. Franz announced that Dr. Jamie Larson submitted a revised proposal after receiving feedback from the Graduate School. Sullivan, who is from the Graduate School, confirmed that the requested revisions had been made. The motion to approve the modification of the Ph.D. in Animal and Dairy Science was approved unanimously.

Hunt moved to approve the modification of the MS in Animal Science. Niemann seconded the motion. The motion to approve the modification of the MS in Animal Science was approved unanimously.

Rigsby moved to approve the modifications to HDFS 3000, HDFS 3813, HDFS 3823, HDFS 3833, HDFS 4000, HDFS 4462, HDFS 4813/6813, HDFS 4823/6823, HDFS 4831, HDFS 4832, HDFS 4863/6863, HDFS 4883/6883, HDFS 4886, HDFS 4896, HDFS 7000, HDFS 8113, HDFS 8123, HDFS 8413, HDFS 8423, HDFS 8833, and HDFS 8853. Hunt seconded the motion. The undergraduate and graduate subcommittees assigned to these proposals reported on the course proposals. The following observations were made: HDFS 3000 - the learning objectives/outcomes need to be reviewed, and the number of credit hours stated in the proposal is 1-6 while the syllabus indicates it is a 3 credit hour course; HDFS 3813 – the learning objectives need to be reviewed; HDFS 4813/6813 - the prerequisites have been removed from the catalog description in the proposal, but they have not been removed from the proposed syllabus; HDFS 4863/6863 needs to include in the syllabus that it is a three hours course; and HDFS 4883/6883 proposal needs to include the prerequisites in the syllabus. Freeman moved to pass HDFS 3000, HDFS 3813, HDFS 3823, HDFS 3833, HDFS 4000, HDFS 4462, HDFS 4813/6813, HDFS 4823/6823, HDFS 4831, HDFS 4832, HDFS 4863/6863, HDFS 4883/6883, HDFS 4886, HDFS 4896, HDFS 7000, HDFS 8113, HDFS 8123, HDFS 8413, HDFS 8423, HDFS 8833, and HDFS 8853 contingent based upon the above concerns being addressed. Niemann seconded the motion. The motion to pass contingent was approved unanimously.

Carr moved to approve the deletion of AIS 4203/6203 Applications of Information Technologies in Agricultural Information Science and Education. Stewart seconded the motion. The motion to delete AIS 4203/6203 was approved unanimously.

Carr moved to approve the modifications of FDM 3553 Fashion Retailing and FDM 4603 Global Sourcing the in the Textile and Apparel Industry. Freeman seconded the motion. The motion to approve the modifications of FDM 3553 and FDM 4603 passed unanimously.

Carr moved to approve the modifications to EDA 8223, EDA 8283, EDA 8353, and EDA 8383; additions of HED 8010, HED 8223, HED 8283, HED 8353, HED 8383, HED 8573, HED 8583, and HED 8593; the modifications to HED 8113, HED 8523, HED 8543, HED 8553, and HED 8563; the modifications and inclusion of distance education to HED 8123, and HED 8133; the additions and inclusions of distance education for HED 8613, HED 8623, HED 8633, HED 8643, HED 8653, HED 8673 and HED 8683. Hunt seconded the motion. The subcommittee assigned to these proposals reported on the course and program proposals. The following observations were made: EDA 8223 is cross listed with HED 8223, there is an inconsistency in grading scale (A, B, C are in ascending while D is in descending order), syllabi in cross listed course differ, Course Objectives in EDA 8223 are called Course Learning Outcomes in HED 8223, additional Course objectives listed in HED 8223 that are not in EDA 8223; EDA 8283 is crossed listed with HED 8283 but HED 8283 syllabus contains course objectives while EDA 8283 syllabus does not, grading scales in EDA 8283 proposal and syllabus are not the same, grading scale in HED 8283 needs to be identical; EDA 8383 is cross listed with HED 8383 but the grading scale in proposal for EDA 8383 is different than the syllabus, and the grading scale for HED 8383 needs to be identical, course objectives in EDA 8383 are called Course Learning Objectives in HED 8383 and there are additional Course Objectives listed in HED 8383 that are not listed in EDS 8383, the bibliographies are not the same in the syllabi from the two courses; for HED 8010, syllabus item 5 (Professional Development) components are not added together correctly, grading scale is listed in ascending order in part of the grades and descending order in part of the grades; for HED 8133, HED 8523, HED 8543, HED 8553, HED 8553, HED 8573, HED 8573, HED 8583 and HED 8593, the grading scale in the proposal is ascending in order for some of the scale and descending in some of the scale. Stewart moved to pass the modifications to EDA 8223, EDA 8283, EDA 8353, and EDA 8383; additions of HED 8010, HED 8223, HED 8283, HED 8353, HED 8383, HED 8573, HED 8583, and HED 8593; the modifications to HED 8113, HED 8523, HED 8543, HED 8553, and HED 8563; the modifications and inclusion of distance education to HED 8123, and HED 8133; the additions and inclusions of distance education for HED 8613, HED 8623, HED 8633, HED 8643, HED 8653, HED 8673 and HED 8683 contingent upon the above concerns being addressed. Niemann seconded the motion. The motion to pass the course and program proposals contingent was approved unanimously.

Stewart moved to approve the name change for the MS in School Administration, the modification of the MS in Educational Leadership, and the modification to the Ph.D. in Elementary, Middle and Secondary Education Administration. Rigsby seconded the motion. The motion to approve passed unanimously.

Carr moved to approve the modification MS in Workforce Education Leadership (Distance). Rigsby seconded the motion. The motion to approve passed unanimously.

Niemann moved to approve the addition of a Certificate in Applied Behavior Analysis. Hunt seconded the motion. Dr. Dan Gadke appeared in support of the proposal. Committee members discussed who makes admissions decisions about the certificate program and that “related fields” for admissions purposes needs clarification; questioned how the “core faculty” is determined; whether “school psychology” should be capitalized; and discussed if language should be added about how people who are not current students apply. Rigsby moved to pass the Certificate in Applied Behavior Analysis contingent upon the above concerns being addressed. Carr seconded the motion. The motion to pass contingent was approved unanimously.

Rigsby moved to approve modifications to the Ed. S. in School Psychology; the MS in Educational Psychology: General Educational Psychology, Psychometry, and Applied Behavior Analysis; and the Ph.D. in School Psychology. Committee members observed that the three proposals appear to be intertwined making the proposals difficult to understand. For example, committee members observed some of the Ed. S. program language is included in the MS program proposal. Carr moved to table the proposals. Freeman seconded the motion. The motion to table was approved unanimously.

Carr moved to adjourn. Hunt seconded the motion. The motion to adjourn was approved unanimously. The meeting was adjourned at 3:39 p.m.

To: The Arts and Sciences Committee on Courses and Curricula

From: Mark Edward Clark and Robert Harland, Co-chairs
Classical and Modern Languages and Literatures Curriculum Committee

We are writing in support of a proposal modifying the M.A. degree in this department. The proposal clarifies the options available for a graduate degree and stipulates that a comprehensive written exam now will be required in addition to the oral exam. The new requirement will strengthen students' proficiency in the target language(s).

Thank you for your consideration.

CURRENT Degree Description	PROPOSED Degree Description
Degree: Master of Arts Major: Foreign Languages	Degree: Master of Arts Major: Foreign Languages
Thesis and non-thesis options are available. A minimum of 21 semester hours in one language must be taken for the M.A.; this allows a student to work in a minor field, such as History, Education, the Teaching of English as a Second Language, and Foreign Language Methodology.	Thesis and non-thesis options are available. A minimum of 21 graduate-level semester hours taught in one target language must be taken for the thesis or non-thesis M.A. options. Students may pursue study in two languages by taking a minimum of 18 hours in each language. For the thesis option, a minimum of 12 hours must be at the 7000-/8000-level; for the non-thesis option, a minimum of 15 hours must be at the 7000-/8000-level. No more than 6 hours of Directed Individual Study credits (FL 7000) may be counted toward the M.A. degree. Also required for the degree is a comprehensive written and oral examination based upon all coursework taken and a departmental graduate reading list.

3. JUSTIFICATION AND STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

This is a minor modification, with no changes to required coursework. The modification of the catalog description is intended to display the degree options in a clearer manner, breaking down the credit hour requirement for each already-existing option (thesis and non-thesis). The description of the program of study for both degree options has been moved to the beginning of the program description to reduce redundancy. Wording has been added that recommends, though does not require, that students take any of three already-existing courses in the curriculum (FL 8113, FL 6023, FL 8693) for the thesis and non-thesis options. Additionally, the description of options for pursuing a minor has been moved from the thesis option to the non-thesis option, as students working on a thesis will likely not have time to complete a minor, based upon the credit hour requirement, while students pursuing the non-thesis option could have time to pursue a minor.

The degree modification also adds the requirement of a written examination to accompany the oral examination. This requirement is the same for both degree options. The written examination is being added to further ensure students' proficiency in their chosen field of study, and to confirm their ability to write proficiently in the target language. It will have the additional benefit of allowing students to express their understanding of their field of study in writing prior to the oral examination, allowing committee members the opportunity to follow-up on their ideas, and to permit further time for questions regarding the departmental reading list and students' coursework.

Student learning outcomes for the degree modification include:

- Students will strengthen their ability to speak in multi-paragraph discourse in the target language on theoretical topics, consistent with the superior level of speech in the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL) guidelines
- Students will strengthen their ability to write in multi-paragraph discourse in the target language on theoretical topics, consistent with the superior level of written communication in the ACTFL guidelines
- Students will become well-versed in major and minor works in the literary traditions connected to their chosen field of study
- Students will demonstrate an ability to speak and write on the literary works of their chosen field sufficiently to enable them to enter and successfully continue instruction in a doctoral program in their chosen field
- Students choosing to pursue studies in a minor field will hold a working knowledge of that field, and its applicability to their major field of study, and to pursue further education within that minor field
- All students will be capable of composing substantial critical writing on the texts within their chosen field, including proper sourcing, understanding of and ability to integrate and enter into discourse with secondary literature, proper citation, and the demonstration of concerted knowledge of major and minor works within that field
- Students choosing the thesis option will be capable of composing a substantial written work on a subject within their chosen field, understanding the works within that subject and the significant secondary literature on that subject, and will be able to communicate those ideas to an academic public; students will furthermore have the ability to defend their writing on that subject through their oral examination to the members of their thesis committee

4. LETTER OF SUPPORT

A letter of support from the departmental curriculum committee has been attached to this proposal, signed by Dr. Lynn Holt, interim head of CMLL, and the members of the CMLL curriculum committee.

5. PROPOSED FOUR-LETTER ABBREVIATION

The abbreviation for the program will remain FL.

6. EFFECTIVE DATE

The effective date of this degree modification will be Spring 2017.

Current Degree Program Name: Bachelor of Arts in Sociology

Major: Sociology

Concentration: no change

Summary of Proposed Changes:

Change 1: We added a more detailed description of the sociology degree. The new description provides students with more information about required sociology courses. The sociology degree description is now more consistent with the criminology degree description. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 2: We replaced several instances of “see advisor” and “consult advisor” with “see General Education courses” since that is where their advisor will direct them. We hope this will encourage students to find courses appropriate for their schedules before meeting with their advisor. The sociology program is now more consistent with the criminology program in this regard. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 3: We changed second Mathematics course requirement from “ST 3123” to “Elective Mathematics higher than MA 1313”. Sociology majors have always able to use any Math course higher than 1313 to meet their Mathematics requirement on their CAPP reports. We are simply making them aware of this option. This is the same standard used for a criminology degree. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 4: We changed the Economics requirement from “EC 2113 or EC 2123” to “EC 2113”. Since EC 2113 is a section prerequisite for EC 2123, and sociology majors are only allowed to take one Economics course, we felt this should be changed to avoid confusing students. This is consistent with Social Work’s economics requirement (criminology has no economics requirement). This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 5: We added “see A&S Core list” to the 6 hours of social science electives. Previously, students had no direction to help them determine what courses would meet this requirement. The sociology program is now more consistent with the criminology program in this regard. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 6: We changed the Oral Communication Requirement from “CO 1003” to “CO 1003 or CO 1013”. Sociology majors have always able to use CO 1013 to meet their Oral Communication requirement on their CAPP reports. We are simply making them aware of this option. This is the same standard used for a criminology degree. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

these requirements by taking the courses previously outlined in the degree program. These two courses: SO 3103 and SO 4804 have always been required for our majors. We are simply clarifying that one of them (3103) is the Writing Requirement course, and 4804 is the Computer Literacy course. The sociology program is now more consistent with the criminology program in this regard. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 8: All references to SO 4803 have been changed to SO 4804 – this reflects a previously submitted UCCC proposal, which has been approved contingent on the acceptance of this degree program modification. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 9: We have removed “Level V: Capstone” from our major core requirements and moved the class previously listed under that heading (SO 4804) to “Level III: Tools and Skills”. Since SO 4804 directly builds on the other two classes listed under “Level III”, we felt it made more sense to list all three classes under the same heading. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 10: We changed the number of hours associated with SO 4804 from 3 to 4. This reflects a previously submitted UCCC proposal, which has been approved contingent on the acceptance of this degree program modification. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 11: We have changed the policy regarding sociology majors’ 21 elective hours to allow the students to take three of those hours at the 1000 or 2000 level. We have made this change because two of our most popular courses, Contemporary Social Problems and Marriage & Family, cannot count toward a sociology major’s 39 required hours of sociology. We believe making this change will encourage more non-sociology majors who have taken one or both of these courses (as well as Introduction to Sociology) to switch their major to sociology. In short, we believe the change will attract more students to sociology, while maintaining a rigorous curriculum. For instance, this change is consistent with the criminology program which requires students to take 18 elective hours at the 3000 or 4000 level (they do not require a minimum number of 4000 level courses). We believe this is the only new substantive change being suggested – all other changes listed above are designed to increase consistency and clarity, not alter the degree requirements in any way. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 12: SO 4804 will now be the computer literacy requirement. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Dear Chair, University Committee on Courses and Curriculum,

Please accept this letter of support for the Sociology department's proposal to modify Sociology's degree program. The proposed changes are needed to provide greater clarity to future sociology majors and incorporate approved/pending UCCC proposals. All changes received unanimous support from the departmental faculty at our February 19, 2016 faculty meeting. Please contact Lindsey Peterson, Chair of the Department of Sociology Undergraduate Curriculum Committee, if you have further questions.

Sincerely yours,

Department of Sociology Undergraduate Curriculum
Committee

DEGREE MODIFICATION OUTLINE FORM

Use the chart below to make modifications to an existing undergraduate degree outline. If any General Education (Core) course is acceptable in the category, please indicate by saying "any Gen Ed course". There is no need to type in the whole list. All deleted courses and information should be shown in italics and all new courses and information in bold. Include the course prefix, number, and title in both columns. Expand this table as needed.

Sociology majors are well prepared to enter many rewarding positions in the work force right out of college or further graduate training in law, business, community planning, architecture, medicine, politics or academics. Opportunities for employment include, but are not restricted to entry-level positions in administration, advertising, banking, counseling (family planning, career, substance abuse, etc.), health services, journalism, group and recreation work, marketing and market research, sales, non-profit organizations, teaching, criminal justice, social services and social research. In addition, sociology provides training that other liberal arts majors do not, such as the core elements of human interaction and relationships, and basic training for research analyst positions (in statistics and research methods, which include computer applications, for example). To earn a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in sociology, a student is required to take 36 hours of sociology.	To earn a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in sociology, a student is required to take 36 hours of sociology.

All new freshman desiring to major in Sociology will be admitted into the Sociology major in the College of Arts and Sciences at Mississippi State University. For all other students wishing to major in Sociology, to be eligible for admission to the Sociology program, students must have a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or above on all college work attempted prior to entering the major. The criteria for remaining in the program include:

1. Students must earn a minimum of a "C" in all Sociology courses. Students earning a grade lower than C in a Sociology course must retake that course.
2. Students must maintain an overall GPA of 2.0 or above. Students who fall below the overall GPA of 2.0 must bring it up to 2.0 the next semester or drop the Sociology major.

Sociology Major Course Requirements

The sociology major consists of a sequence of five levels of courses ranging from introductory to the more advanced and capstone courses. Students are expected to complete courses in the lower levels before taking courses in the more advanced levels. For example, students should complete Level I courses before completing Level II courses, etc. The lower level courses are prerequisites for the advanced level courses.

Sociology Minor

To earn a minor in sociology, a student must take 18 hours of undergraduate sociology courses. SO 1003, SO 2203, and SO 3213 are required. The other three SO courses must be at the 2000 level or above and include at least one 4000 level SO course.

Students who wish to major or minor in the department should plan their programs with the departmental major advisor as soon as possible after entering the University and should consult with their advisor before each registration period. Programs are arranged individually to combine the most varied advantages consistent with the student's interests and purposes. Persons interested in second school teaching may elect sufficient courses in the College of Education to satisfy certification requirements for teach social studies.

3. JUSTIFICATION OF THE CHANGE OF DEGREE AND STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES:

Overall motivation: the primary goal of the changes outlined above is to provide greater clarity to future sociology majors. We have added greater detail in areas where we thought students would benefit from more information, while also removing information that may potentially confuse students. Secondary goals include making the sociology degree program more consistent with the other majors offered in the Department of Sociology (i.e. Criminology and Social Work) and making the degree program more consistent with sociology CAPP reports.

Change 1: We added a more detailed description of the sociology degree. The new description provides students with more information about required sociology courses. The sociology degree description is now more consistent with the criminology degree description. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 2: We replaced several instances of “see advisor” and “consult advisor” with “see General Education courses” since that is where their advisor will direct them. We hope this will encourage students to find courses appropriate for their schedules before meeting with their advisor. The sociology program is now more consistent with the criminology program in this regard. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 3: We changed second Mathematics course requirement from “ST 3123” to “Elective Mathematics higher than MA 1313”. Sociology majors have always able to use any Math course higher than 1313 to meet their Mathematics requirement on their CAPP reports. We are simply making them aware of this option. This is the same standard used for a criminology degree. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 4: We changed the Economics requirement from “EC 2113 or EC 2123” to “EC 2113”. Since EC 2113 is a section prerequisite for EC 2123, and sociology majors are only allowed to take one Economics course, we felt this should be changed to avoid confusing students. This is consistent with Social Work’s economics requirement (criminology has no economics requirement). This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 5: We added “see A&S Core list” to the 6 hours of social science electives. Previously, students had no direction to help them determine what courses would meet this requirement. The sociology program is now more consistent with the criminology program in this regard. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 6: We changed the Oral Communication Requirement from “CO 1003” to “CO 1003 or CO 1013”. Sociology majors have always able to use CO 1013 to meet their Oral Communication requirement on their CAPP reports. We are simply making them aware of this option. This is the same standard used for a criminology degree. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 7: We changed the language regarding “Writing Requirement” and “Computer Literacy” to reflect that students will meet these requirements by taking the courses previously outlined in the degree program. These two courses: SO 3103 and SO 4804 have always been required for our majors. We are simply clarifying that one of them (3103) is the Writing Requirement course, and 4804 is the Computer Literacy course. . The sociology program is now more consistent with the criminology program in this regard. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 8: All references to SO 4803 have been changed to SO 4804 – this reflects a previously submitted UCCC proposal, which has been approved contingent on the acceptance of this degree program modification. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 9: We have removed “Level V: Capstone” from our major core requirements and moved the class previously listed under that heading (SO 4804) to “Level III: Tools and Skills”. Since SO 4804 directly builds on the other two classes listed under “Level III”, we felt it made more sense to list all three classes under the same heading. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 10: We changed the number of hours associated with SO 4804 from 3 to 4. This reflects a previously submitted UCCC proposal, which has been approved contingent on the acceptance of this degree program modification. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 11: We have changed the policy regarding sociology majors’ 21 elective hours to allow the students to take three of those hours at the 1000 or 2000 level. We have made this change because two of our most popular courses, Contemporary Social Problems and Marriage & Family, cannot count toward a sociology major’s 39 required hours of sociology. We believe making this change will encourage more non-sociology majors who have taken one or both of these courses (as well as Introduction to Sociology) to switch their major to sociology. In short, we believe the change will attract more students to sociology, while maintaining a rigorous curriculum. For instance, this change is consistent with the criminology program which requires students to take 18 elective hours at the 3000 or 4000 level (they do not require a minimum number of 4000 level courses). We believe this is the only new substantive change being suggested – all other changes listed above are designed to increase consistency and clarity, not alter the degree requirements in any way. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

Change 12: SO 4804 will now be the computer literacy requirement. This change does not require modifying student learning outcomes.

NOTE: Because three or fewer courses are being added, modified or deleted along with this degree program change, a complete review and assessment of the degree program was not deemed necessary.

1. Will this program change meet local, state, regional, and national educational and cultural needs? If so, please describe.
  - a. The program changes will meet local, state, regional, and national educational and cultural needs. The requested changes are minor, and are not intended to reshape the Sociology degree substantially. We believe that the addition of SO 4804 as our Computer Literacy course will improve students’ ability to evaluate and synthesize data, as many of them will do in their future careers. A 2015 report from the American Sociological Association reported that over 50% of those with BAs in Sociology report doing data analysis in their current jobs. (file:///Users/lindseypeterson/Downloads/early\_employment.pdf). It was recently announced that the Mississippi Department of Employment Security and Mississippi State’s National Strategic Planning and Analysis Center (NSPARC) will hold a conference on campus entitled “Mississippi-A Data Driven State Data Summit”. We hope that by improving the analytical skills of our majors, we will position them for future data-driven jobs locally, in the state of Mississippi, and regionally and nationally (<http://www.msstate.edu/newsroom/article/2016/09/inaugural-mississippi-%E2%80%93data-driven-state-data-summit-announced/>).
2. Will this program change result in duplication in the System? If so, please describe.
  - a. The requested changes are minor and will not cause any duplication in the System.
3. Will this program change advance student diversity within the discipline? If so, please describe.
  - a. We do not anticipate these curriculum changes having a substantial impact on student diversity within the discipline.
4. Will this program change result in an increase in the potential placement of graduates in MS, the Southeast, and the U.S.? If so, please describe.
  - a. As described above in Question 1, we hope that the change to our Computer Literacy requirement will prepare students better for jobs in data-driven careers, of which there are many.
5. Will the program change result in an increase in the potential salaries of graduates in MS, the Southeast, and the U.S.? If so, please describe.

- a. The predictors of future salaries are varied, and we cannot say with any authority how the changes we have made here will affect potential salaries for our graduates.

3. Justification and Student Learning Outcomes

The current proposal aims to streamline course work for the Master's degree in Educational Psychology with concentration in General Educational Psychology. This concentration has not been modified substantially in 20-25 years. The proposed modification to the degree in Educational Psychology with concentration in General Educational Psychology decreases the number of hours from 41 to 35 in the degree to competitively match other Masters' programs in Educational Psychology. Other schools in the region require 30-36 hours for a Master's degree (e.g. University of Alabama--30, University of Missouri --33, and University of Memphis—36).

These changes were accomplished via a complete program review by EPY faculty that began during Fall 2015 and culminated in these desired changes during an extensive summer retreat, on July 7-8, 2016. Notes from that retreat are available upon request. We utilized comparisons with other programs in the discipline (e.g., Florida State University, University of Georgia, University of Tennessee, and University of Wisconsin in addition to ones listed above) and graduates' assessment and feedback of their preparation. In our meeting, we better aligned our program identity with career potentials of our graduates. We evaluated the target outcomes, requirements, and goals for each of our classes and for our program as a whole. These extensive discussions resulted in the program changes proposed here.

These changes will allow us to better attract students while maintaining quality education and training. We believe these changes will allow us to attract more diverse students and result in an increase in placement of our students and thus better meeting the needs in the state, Southeast, and nation. With a reduction in the number of course hours we can better recruit and retain students to complete a MS in EPY –General Educational Psychology that is on par with others in the Southeast and across the Nation.

This modification does not result in duplication in the system. We do not foresee these changes as altering the potential salaries of our graduates.

Our student learning outcomes remain the same.

- Demonstrate advanced knowledge of the principles of the discipline
- Demonstrate the ability to interpret and analyze research and data
- Demonstrate the ability to communicate professionally, verbally and in writing

This is accompanied by course modifications to two courses: EPY 4073/6073 and EPY 8293. In addition a degree modification in the doctoral program (EPY with concentration in General Educational Psychology) is being concurrently submitted.

4. Support

Please see letter from program faculty in the Department of Counseling, Educational Psychology, and Foundations supporting the changes to the degree program.

There are no anticipated changes necessary in the department in personnel or materials for this modification. In addition, the PSY classes listed in the proposal are ones taken by our students in the current degree (advisors approve in the current degree). Hence, the impact on psychology department is anticipated to be minimal to none. This concentration typically has on average about 2-3 new students a year.

3. Justification and Student Learning Outcomes

The current proposal aims to streamline course work for the doctoral degree. It has not been modified substantially in 20-25 years. The proposed modification to the degree in Educational Psychology with concentration in General Educational Psychology decreases the number of hours from 120 to 91 in the degree to competitively match other programs in Educational Psychology. Other schools in the region require 60-90 hours for a doctoral degree (e.g.

Auburn University--78, University of South Florida--70, and University of Tennessee--90). In addition, with these changes we are more in line with most doctoral degrees offered here at Mississippi State University in our college and in our department. Ph.D. in Counselor Education is 81 hours; Ph.D. in Curriculum and Instruction is 90 hours; Ph.D. in Instructional Systems and Workforce Development is 90 hours.

This proposed modification adds a qualitative track to the existing quantitative track enabling our students to perform and evaluate a range of research designs undertaken in the field and related fields. Furthermore, some of the required courses in the past curriculum have become choices instead. In this manner, students (in consult with advisor) can best design curriculum for their interests and needs. Overall, students' learning outcomes will be sustained at a very high level.

These changes were accomplished via a complete program review by EPY faculty that began during Fall 2015 and culminated in these desired changes during an extensive summer retreat, on July 7-8, 2016. Notes from that retreat are available upon request. We utilized comparisons with other programs in the discipline (e.g., Florida State University, University of Georgia, University of Tennessee, and University of Wisconsin) and graduates' assessment and feedback of their preparation. In our meeting, we better aligned our program identity with career potentials of our graduates. We evaluated the target outcomes, requirements, and goals for each of our classes and for our program as a whole. These extensive discussions resulted in the program changes proposed here.

These changes will allow us to better attract students while maintaining quality education and training. We believe these changes will allow us to attract more diverse students and result in an increase in placement of our students and thus better meeting the needs in the state, Southeast, and nation. Many potential students have cited the number of hours as a deterrent to them applying for and seeking this degree. With a reduction in the number of course hours we can better recruit and retain students to complete a PhD in EPY --General Educational Psychology that is on par with others in the Southeast and across the Nation. In addition, this reduction in course hours allow us to engage students more in research and teaching activities that are important for gaining employment in the field.

This modification does not result in duplication in the system. We do not foresee these changes as altering the potential salaries of our graduates.

Our student learning outcomes remain the same.

- Demonstrate advanced knowledge and application of the principles of the discipline
- Demonstrate the ability to interpret and analyze research and data
- Demonstrate the ability to conduct meaningful research in the discipline
- Demonstrate the ability to communicate professionally, both verbally and in writing
- Demonstrate proficiency in teaching
- Select and interpret appropriate measures or assessments for given situations

4. Support

Please see letter from faculty in the Department of Counseling and Educational Psychology supporting the changes to the degree program.

There are no anticipated changes necessary in the department in personnel or materials for this modification. In addition, the PSY classes listed in the proposal were ones taken by our students in the current degree -- either with advisors' approval or moved from required core classes to options in concentration 1 or moved to concentration 2 requirements. Hence, the impact on the psychology department is anticipated to be minimal to none. This concentration typically has on average about 2-3 new students a year.
